Title and Abstract of the Doctoral Thesis (within 150 words)*Termination of International Trade Contracts and the Authority of the Arbitrator

The purpose of the thesis is to clarify the legal issues related to the termination of international trade contracts and the legal reference to be resorted to if one of the parties of the international trade contract wishes to terminate the international contract as a result of the other party's breach of its contractual obligations. The thesis also sheds light on the legal system of termination by unilateral will and compares the legal status between Latin and Anglo-American regulars. Then, the study examines the role and authority of the international commercial arbitrator in the maintenance of the contract and the avoidance of termination when considering the termination of the international trade contract.
